In 2013, Ohio became the 14th state to adopt a Domestic Asset Protection Trust (DAPT), providing individuals with the ability to protect their life savings from creditors and litigation. This DAPT, known as the Ohio Legacy Trust, is an estate planning tool created to offer comfort in a world filled with constant litigation. The DAPT in Ohio is thought to have some of the most substantial safeguards in the United States, providing more protection than Delaware, South Dakota, Alaska, and Nevada.

DAPTs are commonly used by doctors, business owners, lawyers, accountants, directors of publicly traded companies, or anyone whose occupational roles put them at risk of a lawsuit. A DAPT can also be used in place of a prenuptial agreement, as long as the trustee is established in the state of Ohio.

As an Ohio corporate trustee, The Preferred Legacy National Trust Bank works with your attorneys and you, the grantor, to establish a DAPT, determining what assets belong in the trust, while also developing precautions to aid in protecting assets from an aggressive litigant.

A DAPT is only as effective as its trustee. The Preferred Legacy National Trust Bank has a solid foundation of experience and partnerships with some of the best estate planning attorneys in the industry to protect your assets for generations. As an Ohio-based trust company, we will walk alongside you through the process of establishing one of the most robust DAPTs available as a part of your estate plan, allowing you to preserve your legacy for generations to come.
